

FIELDS IN TRUST

GEORGE TORKILDSEN MEMORIAL TRAVEL BURSARY

The George Torkildsen Memorial Trust was set up to recognise George's outstanding contribution to leisure management. The Trust has established a fund to offer an opportunity for those embarking upon a career in leisure management to travel and study experiences and practice elsewhere in and beyond the UK.

Applicants must be resident in the United Kingdom. Awards will normally be offered up to a maximum of £1,000 and the Trust may also be able to offer links with projects in the UK and abroad, through organisations such as World Leisure.

Those interested are asked to provide a letter of application and 'mini-business plan', which should provide background information on the intended study project and its objectives including a brief description; benefits and outcomes to the individual and the profession; timetable; total costs, indicating other financial contributions; and references. Applicants are encouraged to indicate how their proposal may be considered innovative, has potential for replication and can act as a catalyst for the development of learning and professional practice in the United Kingdom

Applications should be sent to
